Communion Sept. 32

Forces that work for the quickening of man's conscience

1. The Holy Spirit He is that ever present person who strives to get us to see clearly the right and the wrong. When we do the wrong He condemns us, when we do the right He commends us, (quote from hymn)
2. The Bible. If we will read the Bible we will see how the race sinned and what the nature of sin was. we will read of the things that are right for us to do and of the things wrong for us to do
3. Innocence. a person may be hardened in his conscience and be continually doing the wrong without conviction and come in contact with a pure little child, a good saintly woman and his conscience become stirred
See.
4. Suffering. It is an extremely hardened conscience that can not be touched by suffering
See.
a. man at death landing wound to move family but let them stay there - saw wife and baby drawn up by his neglect.
b. Little boy blowing a whistle - nervous father got up (who was trying to rest) and took the whistle and split it to pieces. when he was ready for his train - the little boy was off with other children. That night man got message that his little boy was ill. He thought at once of splitting up the little whistle. Arriving home he found the little fellow delirious and grasped in the little hand were the pieces of the whistle. The man's heart broke and he then promised God if the little boy got well he would never be so hard hearted again.

C. Jesus suffering yonder on the cross and dying with a broken heart should quicken our consciences to new consecrations to His service.

For forty days (not including Sunday) we will travel toward Easter — what will be your approach? —

Are you approaching with a kinder conscience?

Saviour, teach me, day by day,
Love's sweet lesson to obey;

Sweeter lesson cannot be

Loving Him who first loved me
